SERVICE STATISTICS

•Assignment Backlog Update — Beginning this month, we are refining our statistics with regard to patent asssignment documents. The Assignment Branch receives such documents through two channels: documents which are submitted with the original application (shown as "New Applications") and documents which are mailed in separately and go to the Assignment Branch directly from the Mail Room/Finance (shown as "Mail Room Recpts.")

As indicated in the new statistics, the current turnaround time for recording assignments submitted with new applications is much longer than that for recording assignments directly from the Mail Room/Finance. Further review showed that this wide variation was caused by incorrect placement of "Mail Room Recpts" at the front of the assignment recordation process. We are continuing to enforce the PTO policy of handling assignments on a first-in/first-out basis, regardless of the source of the document to be recorded.

•Delays in Patent Products — As a result of the increased production by the Examining Corps, far more patents are being printed in each issue than planned. Whereas issue sizes normally contain 1800 patents, they currently contain about 2200. This increase temporarily exceeded the capacity of the PTO's contractor who captures the data and creates the tapes for the printing process. In response to the increased workload, the contractor has opened a third plant, and has employed a sub-contractor as a fourth plant.

The Official Gazette is expected to be back on schedule in August, with patent copies being on schedule by November. In the meantime, a copy of the preliminary proof of the patent section of the Official Gazette, which contains the patent text, is being made available in the Patent Search Room on issue date. Also copies of the preliminary proofs of the patents in the issue, along with the associated drawings, are being made available in patent number order in the Patent Search Room as we receive them.

HELPFUL HINTS

•Use of Courier Services — Recently, it was brought to our attention that attorneys and/or applicants mailing documents to the PTO under the provisions of the Express Mail Rule (37 CFR 1.10), may have to spend considerable time taking the documents to the Post Office or waiting in long lines at the Post Office.

To avoid these inefficiencies, you may want to consider using a private courier (i.e., Federal Express, Purlator, or others) who would come to your office, pick up the document, and deliver the document to the PTO the next business day. One drawback to this service is that the provisions of the Express Mail Rule do not apply to these couriers. Therefore, the filing date for documents sent via a private courier is the date that the document is received in the PTO. If the document is sent under the provisions of the Postal Services Express Mail, the filing date is the date the document is deposited in the Post Office.

If you plan to send a document via a private courier, the following address should be used to insure proper receipt and handling:

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Amendment of Patent and Trademark Rules concerning Judicial Review of Decisions of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and other Miscellaneous Matters.

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, relating to (1) decisions of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (BPAI), (2) requests for reconsideration of decisions of the BPAI and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB), (3) extensions of time in proceedings after a decision by the BPAI under §§ 1.196 and 1.197, (4) practices concerning judicial review of final decisions of the BPAI and TTAB, (5) extensions of time for seeking judicial review of BPAI and TTAB decisions and (6) miscellaneous changes in the practice before the BPAI and housekeeping amendments.

Two recent decisions of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit have held that even though the BPAI includes a new ground for rejection in its decision under 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3), appellants may appeal directly to the Federal Circuit without first seeking reconsideration at the BPAI. Where judicial review is sought without requesting reconsideration, the arguments against the new ground of rejection are developed for the first time during court proceedings. The amendments require that appellants seek reconsideration of the new ground of rejection prior to appeal or commencement of a civil action.

Experience under the previous rules relating to judicial review of final board decisions indicated that the rules may have been confusing in certain respects relating to the time in which judicial review must be sought and the manner in which extensions of time for seeking judicial review may be obtained. The rules eliminate any confusion as to when judicial review must be sought and standardize the manner of obtaining extensions of time to seek judicial review.

The rules also make clarifying and housekeeping amendments with respect to practice before the BPAI.

Effective Date: August 20, 1989.

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register at 54 Fed. Reg. 11009 (March 16, 1989) and at 1101 Official Gazette 6 (April 4, 1989). No oral hearing was held and no written comments were received.

Discussion of Specific Rules

(1) Decisions of the BPAI and requests for reconsideration of BPAI and TTAB decisions

Only final decisions of the BPAI and TTAB are subject to judicial review. 35 U.S.C. §§ 141, 145; U.S.C. § 1071; 28 U.S.C.§ 1295 (a)(4)(A) and (B).

Section 1.196(b) provides that if the BPAI has knowledge of any grounds, not involved in the appeal, for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in its decision a statement to that effect. The statement then constitutes a new rejection of the claims. The previous rules permitted appellants to treat the decision as a final decision in the case and thus immediately appealable. 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3) (1988). Therefore, when an appellant proceeded under this option, arguments against the new rejection were presented for the first time to the reviewing court.

A recent decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rejected the Commissioner's argument that an appellant should not be permitted to contest the BPAI's new ground for rejection because it had not requested reconsideration of that ground by the BPAI. In re Evanega, 829 F.2d 1110, 1113, 4 USPQ 2d 1249, 1252 (Fed. Cir. 1987). See also In re Nielson, 816 F.2d 1567, 1570, 2 USPQ 2d 1525, 1527 (Fed. Cir. 1987). In Evanega, the Commissioner urged that requiring appellants to request reconsideration, where the BPAI adopts a new ground for rejection, would provide the BPAI with an opportunity to consider appellant's arguments and correct any errors while the case was still in the PTO. This conserves judicial resources, and in any event, obtains the benefit of the BPAI's view should judicial review ultimately be sought. The court held, however, that in view of PTO regulations (37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3)) which "expressly provide that the board's decision, even if based on a new ground, is a final determination and thus may be appealed without seeking reconsideration," appellant could not be required to request reconsideration by the BPAI. Id.

The new rule changes eliminate 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3). By removing § 1.196(b)(3), appellants no longer have the option of treating a new ground of rejection as final and immediately appealable. Appellants' options are limited to requesting remand to the examiner or requesting reconsideration by the BPAI as set forth in §§ 1.196(b)(1) and 1.196(b)(2). The preamble of § 1.196(b) has been amended to specifically recite that a new ground of rejection shall not be considered a final decision for judicial review.

Appellants still may elect further prosecution before the examiner under 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(1) or request reconsideration under § 1.196(b)(2). The option of § 1.196(b)(2) requires that any request for reconsideration address the new ground of rejection and specifically state the reasons why the new ground was in error. Section 1.196(b)(2) also provides that the BPAI will reconsider the new rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision. The decision on reconsideration will be deemed to incorporate the earlier decision except for any portions of the earlier decision specifically withdrawn.

Reconsideration or remand need not be requested if appellant does not contest the new ground. Appellants may seek judicial review as to claims not subject to the new ground.

Section 1.196(a) expressly provides for remands to the examiner for further consideration. The BPAI has inherent authority, as part of its role in reviewing standards of patentability applied in the PTO, to remand applications to the examiner for further consideration. Cf. Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP) §§ 1211 and 1212. The change merely makes express that which is inherent.

The amendments also delete the portion of former § 1.196(d) which provides (1) that any decision which includes a remand shall not be a final decision for the purposes of judicial review and (2) that upon conclusion of the proceedings on remand the BPAI may enter an order making its decision final. Those provisions have been included as new § 1.196(e). Under this paragraph, decisions pursuant to § 1.196(b) would not be final as to the claims subject to a new rejection.

The last sentence of former § 1.196(b)(1) has been deleted and placed in new § 1.196(e).

(2) Requests for reconsideration of BPAI and TTAB decisions

Section 1.197(b) provides that any request for reconsideration must specifically state the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in the BPAI's decision. Experience has shown that many requests for reconsideration are nothing more than reargument of appellant's position on appeal. The provision, as adopted, limits requests to the points of law or fact which appellant feels were overlooked or misapprehended by the BPAI.

The amendments also clarify the exception found in the first sentence of § 1.197(b) by including specific references to the "original decision" and the "decision on reconsideration." Some confusion had been noted with respect to the meaning of the current language.

In order to simplify calculation of times for requesting reconsideration of the decisions of the boards, §§ 1.658(b), 2.129(c), and 2.144 specify a period of one month rather than the periods expressed in days. Section 1.197(a) already specified a one-month period.

(3) Extensions of time after a decision by the BPAI to take action under §§1.196 and 1.197

Appellants in patent cases may no longer use fee extensions under § 1.136(a) to extend the time for making an election under § 1.196(b) or seeking reconsideration under § 1.197. previous rules appellants could request reconsideration BPAI decision up to five months after a decision or file a response to a new ground of rejection up to six months after the decision. This inordinately delayed final disposition of appeals. Section 1.136(a) provides that fee extensions are not available to file responses to a BPAI decision pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304. One month is deemed to be ample time to submit a request for reconsideration. Note that Fed. R. Civ. P. 59 provides 10 days and Fed. R. App. P. 40 provides 14 days for similar requests. Extensions under § 1.136(b) will be available to extend the time to file a response under §§ 1.196 and 1.197. Section 1.304(a) exclusively governs extensions of time to file a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action. See further discussion below.

Section 1.136(a) specifically refers to § 1.136(b) for extensions of time to file responses under §§ 1.196 and 1.197 and refers to § 1.304 for extensions of time to initiate judicial review. Sections 1.196(f) and 1.197(b) correlatively reference § 1.136(b) for extensions of time.

Fee extensions are not available to extend the time for electing further prosecution before the examiner under § 1.196(b)(1). Where an appellant elects further prosecution before the examiner, fee extensions under § 1.136(a) remain available to respond to the primary examiner's Office actions.

(4) Time for seeking judicial review of decisions of the BPAI and TTAB

Under previous rules, judicial review of final decisions of the BPAI or TTAB had to be sought within sixty days of the decision or thirty days after a decision on reconsideration. However, where a decision on reconsideration was, in effect, a new decision, it was not always clear whether the time for appeal was thirty or sixty days. Sections 1.304(a) and 2.146(d)(1) provide a two-month period to appeal from either the date of the decision or the decision on a timely filed request for reconsideration.

Some problems have been noted with respect to the time for seeking judicial review in days. Miscalculations of the statutory sixty-day time period have resulted in filing untimely requests for judicial review. In order to simplify calculation of the time for seeking judicial review, §§ 1.304(a) and 2.145(d)(1) specify two months. The two-month period meets the sixty-day requirement of 35 U.S.C. §§ 142, 145 and 146 and 15 U.S.C. §§ 1071(a)(2) and (b)(1) except for time periods which include February 28. In order to comply with the sixty-day requirement, §§ 1.304(b) and 2.145(d)(2) provide that an additional day shall be added to any two-month period for initiating judicial review which includes February 28. Appeals will always be timely if the judicial review is initiated within two months of the final decision.

Previously, the rules did not specify a time period for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action in inter partes cases. The absence of such a time period made it difficult for parties and their attorneys to make appropriate plans for judicial review. For example, in an interference where there has been a split judgment, one of the parties may be satisfied with the judgment but may desire to appeal the adverse judgment only if an appeal is noted by the other party. Where the appeal is filed on the last possible day, a cross-appeal is precluded. Sections 1.304(a) and 2.145(d)(1) specify that the time for filing a cross-appeal or commencing a cross-action expires (1) fourteen days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the decision to be reviewed, whichever is later.

Similarly, no provision for filing a cross-action was provided where an appellee elects to have further proceedings conducted in the district court pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 146 or 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(1). Section 1.304(c) and 2.145(d)(3) provide that the time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint. The district court will determine whether any cross-action was timely filed since neither the complaint nor cross-action is filed in the PTO.

(5) Extensions of time to seek judicial review

In the past, standards for granting requests for extensions of time to take an appeal or commence a civil action varied depending upon which board was involved and upon the particular type proceeding before the board. For example, extensions relating to patent applications could be obtained by paying the appropriate fee under § 1.136(a). However, in reexamination proceedings or when judicial review was sought from a decision of the TTAB, the requester must demonstrate sufficient cause under § 1.550(c) or § 2.145(d)(1). The rules standardize the manner in which an extension of time to initiate judicial review may be obtained. The PTO has adopted a standard which is similar to the standard used in the Federal courts for granting extensions. Under the rules the Commissioner may extend the time (1) for good cause if requested before the expiration of the time provided for initiating judicial review or (2) upon a showing of excusable neglect in failing to initiate judicial review if requested after the expiration of the time period. This standard will be applicable in both trademark and patent proceedings (§§ 1.304(a) and 2.145(e)) once the "last" decision, i.e., either the decision (in circumstances where no timely reconsideration is sought) or the decision on reconsideration, of either board has been entered. In patent cases, extensions of time under § 1.136(b) and § 1.550(c) and fee extensions under 37 CFR § 1.136(a) are no longer available to extend the time for the purpose of judicial review once a decision or a decision on reconsideration has been entered. Section 1.304(a) states that the provisions of §§ 1.136 and 1.550(c) are not available to extend the time to initiate judicial review. Sections 1.136(a), 1.136(b), 1.191(d), 1.550(c), 1.645(a) and(b) refer to § 1.304 for extensions of time for seeking judicial review after a decision has been entered. Section 1.645(a) has been amended by (1) adding the introductory phrase "Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action," to the first sentence and (2) deleting the references to filing a notice of appeal or commencing a civil action in the second sentence.

In view of the amendments to §§ 1.197 and 1.304, relating to extensions of time to seek reconsideration or initiate judicial review, § 1.191(d) does not refer to §§ 1.196 and 1.197.

(6) Miscellaneous amendments

In the past, appellants could use fee extensions to delay the time for requesting an oral hearing at the BPAI. This delays final disposition of the appeal and causes administrative problems and duplication of effort due to the transfer of the appeal to the hearing docket. Section 1.191(d) no longer refers to § 1.194. Fee extensions are no longer available to extend the time for requesting an oral hearing. Extensions under § 1.136(b) are available to extend the time to request an oral hearing.

Section 1.191(b) has been rewritten as one sentence without any change in substance.

Some confusion has resulted as to who has jurisdiction over a patent application after a notice of appeal to the BPAI has been filed. Problems arose, for example, as to the appropriate PTO official to decide certain petitions and other matters after an appeal has been filed. MPEP § 1210 indicates that jurisdiction over the application normally passes at one of five possible times listed therein. Section 1.191 includes a new section (e) which provides that jurisdiction transfers to the BPAI when the application or reexamination file including all briefs and examiner's answers is transmitted to the BPAI. Thus, jurisdiction transfers to the BPAI when all written submissions by the applicant and the examiner have been entered and the application papers have been forwarded to the BPAI.

New paragraph 1.191(e) also includes a provision that the Commissioner, prior to the time the BPAI renders its decision, may sua sponte order that an application be remanded to the examiner for further consideration. This provision merely makes explicit the inherent authority of the Commissioner to direct and supervise the examination of patent applications.

Under previous rules there was some confusion as to when "termination of proceedings" occurs. Section 1.197(c) provides that proceedings are "terminated" when the Federal Circuit's mandate is received by the PTO or after the time for appeal from the judgment of the district court in a civil action under 35 U.S.C. § 145 has expired. The language "In such cases," in the second sentence of former § 1.197(c) has been eliminated since it was superfluous and may have been confusing.

The rules delete the phrase "that he or she elects" and substitutes "electing" therefor in §§ 1.304(c) and 2.145(c)(3), as amended. The amendment merely changes wording without any change in substance.

Section 1.196(b) changes the verb "make" to "makes" to conform the verb to the singular subject of the sentence.

Sections 1.301, 1.303, 2.145(a)(2) and 2.145(c)(3) no longer refer to transmittal of the certified list and certified copies of the notice of election to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit under 35 U.S.C. § 141 or 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(1). These procedures are required by applicable statutes or Court Rules and are unnecessary in the PTO's regulations.

Sections 1.304(a), 1.304(c), 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) include a statement that the certificate of mailing provisions of § 1.8 are not applicable. No substantive change is involved since the inapplicability of § 1.8 is already stated in §§ 1.8(a)(2)(viii) and (ix).

Sections 1.304(b) and 2.145(d)(2) recite "Federal holiday in the District of Columbia" rather than "legal holiday." These changes merely conform the language of these sections with the language of 35 U.S.C. § 21(b) and 37 CFR § 1.7.

Section 2.145(c)(2) and (3) include changes in wording without any change in substance.

Other Considerations

These rules will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 350 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities [Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354]. The rule change requiring appellants to request reconsideration under the specific circumstances set forth is not expected to result in an increase of fees charged by attorneys and agents to entities, including small entities, since the rule change is intended to eliminate erroneous grounds for rejection prior to appeal and in some instances is expected to eliminate the need for appeal.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect to the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

For the reasons given in the preamble and pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. § 6, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below.

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.136 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.136 Filing of timely responses with petition and fee for extension of time and extensions of time for cause.

(a) If an applicant is required to respond within a non-statutory or shortened statutory time period, applicant may respond up to four months after the time period set if a petition for an extension of time and the fee set in § 1.17 are filed prior to or with the response, unless (1) applicant is notified otherwise in an Office action, (2) the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to § 1.611 or (3) the response is to a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304. The date on which the response, the petition, and the fee have been filed is the date of the response and also the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The expiration of the time period is determined by the amount of the fee paid. In no case may an applicant respond later than the maximum time period set by statute, or be granted an extension of time under paragraph (b) of this section when the provisions of this paragraph are available. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time relating to proceedings pursuant to §§ 1.196 or 1.197, § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action, § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

(b) When a response with petition and fee for extension of time cannot be filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the time for response will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the applicant is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. In no case can any extension carry the date on which response to an Office action is due beyond the maximum time period set by statute or be granted when the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section are available. See § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action, § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

3. Section 1.191 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (d) and adding paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.191 Appeal to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

(b) The appeal in an application or reexamination proceeding must identify the rejected claim or claims appealed, and must be signed by the applicant, patent owner or duly authorized attorney or agent.

* * * * *

(d) The time periods set forth in §§ 1.191 through 1.193 are subject to the provisions of § 1.136 for patent applications or § 1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings. See §1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

(e) Jurisdiction over the application or patent under reexamination passes to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon transmittal of the file, including all briefs and examiner's answers, to the Board. Prior to the entry of a decision on the appeal, the Commissioner may sua sponte order the application remanded to the examiner.

4. Section 1.196 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) and adding new paragraphs (e) and (f) to read as follows:

§1.196 Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

(a) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, in its decision, may affirm or reverse the decision of the examiner in whole or in part on the grounds and on the claims specified by the examiner or remand the application to the examiner for further consideration. The affirmance of the rejection of a claim on any of the grounds specified constitutes a general affirmance of the decision of the examiner on that claim, except as to any ground specifically reversed.

(b) Should the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences have knowledge of any grounds not involved in the appeal for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in the decision a statement to that effect with its reasons for so holding, which statement shall constitute a new rejection of the claims. A new rejection shall not be considered final for the purpose of judicial review. When the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences makes a new rejection of an appealed claim, the appellant may exercise either of the following two options with respect to the new ground:

(1) The appellant may submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner. The statement shall be binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground for rejection stated in the decision. Should the examiner again reject the application the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(2) The appellant may have the case reconsidered under § 1.197(b) by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon the same record. The request for reconsideration shall address the new ground for rejection and state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. Where request for such reconsideration is made the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall reconsider the new ground for rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision which shall include all grounds upon which a patent is refused. The decision on reconsideration is deemed to incorporate the earlier decision, except for those portions specifically withdrawn on reconsideration, and is final for the purpose of judicial review.

* * * * *

(d) Although the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences normally will confine its decision to a review of rejections made by the examiner, should it have knowledge of any grounds for rejecting any allowed claim it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim and remand the case to the examiner. In such event, the Board shall set a period, not less than one month, within which the appellant may submit to the examiner an appropriate amendment, a showing of facts or reasons, or both, in order to avoid the grounds set forth in the recommendation of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. The examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection. Should the examiner make the recommended rejection final the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(e) Whenever a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences includes or allows a remand, that decision shall not be considered a final decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

(f) See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time to take action under this section.

5. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.197 Action following decision

* * * * *

(b) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the decision may be made if filed within one month from the date of the original decision, unless the original decision is so modified by the decision on reconsideration as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states. The request for reconsideration shall state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. See 37 CFR § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for seeking reconsideration.

(c) Termination of proceedings. Proceedings are considered terminated by the dismissal of an appeal or the failure to timely file an appeal to the court or a civil action (§ 1.304) except: (1) where claims stand allowed in an application or (2) where the nature of the decision requires further action by the examiner. The date of termination of proceedings is the date on which the appeal is dismissed or the date on which the time for appeal to the court or review by civil action (§ 1.304) expires. If an appeal to the court or a civil action has been filed, proceedings are considered terminated when the appeal or civil action is terminated. An appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit is terminated when the mandate is received by the Office. A civil action is terminated when the time to appeal the judgment expires.

6. Section 1.301 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.301 Appeal to U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Any applicant or any owner of a patent involved in a reexamination proceeding dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, and any party to an interference dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal: (a) In the Patent and Trademark Office file a written notice of appeal directed to the Commissioner (see §§ 1.302 and 1.304); and (b) in the Court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court.

7. Section 1.303 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.303 Civil Action under 35 U.S.C. 145, 146, 306.

* * * * *

(c) If any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an interference proceeding files notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (§ 1.302), that he or she elects to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in 35 U.S.C. 146. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 1.646.

8. Section 1.304 is revised to read as follows:

§1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is two months from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In interferences, the time for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later. The time periods set forth in this section are not subject to the provisions of § 1.136, 1.550(c) or 1.645(a) or (b). The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action (1) for good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or (2) upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect. certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal or cross-appeal. See § 1.8(a)(2)(ix).

(b) The times specified in this section in days are calendar days. The times specified herein in months are calendar months except that one day shall be added to any two-month period which includes February 28. If the last day of the time specified for appeal of commencing a civil action falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday in the District of Columbia, the time is extended to the next day which is neither a Saturday, Sunday nor a Federal holiday.

(c) If a defeated party to an interference has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under 35 U.S.C. 141 electing to have all further proceedings conducted under 35 U.S.C. 146 (§ 1.303(c)), the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in 35 U.S.C. 141. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal of cross-appeal. See § 1.8(a)(2)(viii).

9. Section 1.550 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.550 Conduct of reexamination proceedings

* * * * *

(c) The time for taking any action by a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the patent owner is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

* * * * *

10. Section 1.645 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.645 Extension of time, late papers, stay of proceedings

(a) Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action, a party may file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking an extension of time to take action in an interference. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action. The motion shall be filed within sufficient time to actually reach the examiner-in-chief before expiration of the time for taking action. A moving party should not assume that the motion will be granted even if there is no objection by any other party. The motion will be denied unless the moving party shows good cause why an extension should be granted. The press of other business arising after an examiner-in-chief sets a time for taking action will not normally constitute good cause. A motion seeking additional time to take testimony because a party has not been able to procure the testimony of a witness shall set forth the name of the witness, any steps taken to procure the testimony of the witness, the dates on which the steps were taken, and the facts expected to be proven through the witness.

(b) Any paper belatedly filed, will not be considered except upon motion (§ 1.635) which shows sufficient cause why the paper was not timely filed. See § 1.304(a) for exclusive procedures relating to belated filing of a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or belated commencement of a civil action.

* * * * *

11. Section 1.658 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.658 Final Decision

* * * * *

(b) Any request for reconsideration of a decision under paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed within one month after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. Any reply to a request for reconsideration shall be filed within 14 days of the date of service of the request for reconsideration. Where reasonably possible, service of the request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail." The Board shall enter a decision on the request for reconsideration. If the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision on the request for reconsideration significantly modifies its original decision under paragraph (a) of this section, the Board may designate the decision on the request for reconsideration as a new decision.

PART 2 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

12. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

13. Section 2.129 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 2.129 Oral argument; reconsideration

* * * * *

(c) Any request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of a decision issued after final hearing must be filed within one month from the date of the decision. A brief in response must be filed within fifteen days from the date of service of the request. The times specified may be extended by order of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board on motion for good cause.

14. Section 2.144 is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.144 Reconsideration of decision on ex parte appeal

Any request for rehearing or reconsideration, or modification of the decision, must be filed within one month from the date of the decision. Such time may be extended by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board upon a showing of sufficient cause.

15. Section 2.145 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c)(2), (c)(3), (d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(3) and adding new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 2.145 Appeal to court and civil action.

(a) Appeal to U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. An applicant for registration, or any party to an interference, opposition, or cancellation proceeding or any party to an application to register as a concurrent user, hereinafter referred to as inter partes proceedings, who is dissatisfied with the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and any registrant who has filed an affidavit or declaration under section 8 of the Act or who has filed an application for renewal and is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioner (§§ 2.165, 2.184), may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal:

(1) In the Patent and Trademark Office give written notice of appeal to the Commissioner (see paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section);

(2) In the court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court.

* * * * *

(2) Any applicant or registrant in an ex parte case who takes an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit waives any right to proceed under section 21(b) of the Act.

(3) Any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an inter partes proceeding may file a notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (paragraph (b) of this section), electing to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in section 21(b) of the Act. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 2.119. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of election. See § 1.8(a)(2)(viii).

(d) Time for appeal or civil action. (1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (paragraph (b) of this section), or for commencing a civil action (paragraph (c) of this section), is two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §§ 2.127(b), 2.129(c) or 2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In inter partes cases, the time for filing a cross-action or a notice of a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, whichever is later. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal or cross-appeal. See § 1.8(a)(2)(ix).

(2) The times specified in this section in days are calendar days. The times specified herein in months are calendar months except that one day shall be added to any two-month period which includes February 28. If the last day of time specified for an appeal, or commencing a civil action falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday in the District of Columbia, the time is extended to the next day which is neither a Saturday, Sunday nor a Federal holiday.

(3) If a party to an inter partes proceeding has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under section 21(a)(1) of the Act electing to have all further proceedings conducted under section 21(b) of the Act, the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in section 21(a)(1) of the Act. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint.

(e) Extensions of time to commence judicial review. The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action (1) for good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or (2) upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

Drawings in Patent Applications Filed After January 1, 1989

The general rule applicable to release of any paper in a patent application file is that no paper (including a drawing) will be returned for any purpose whatever. 37 CFR 1.59. New rules published in the Official Gazette (1097 OG 36 (December 13, 1988)) effective January 1, 1989, no longer require the submission of formal drawings in a patent application. Since corrections are the responsibility of the applicant, the original drawing(s) should be retained by the applicant for future correction, if necessary.

As a result of adoption of these new rules relating to drawings, the Patent and Trademark Office will no longer release to applicants, bonded drafting companies or others, drawings from patent applications filed after January 1, 1989, and after January 1, 1991, no drawings may be borrowed from the office.

Access to applications is still provided with the proper power to inspect. If copies of any papers or drawings within the application are required, arrangements may be made through the File Information Unit and copies may be made in the Public Search Room. If there is some extraordinary situation that requires release of an original drawing in possession of the office, relief may be requested by filing a petition under 37 CFR 1.183.

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Action: Final Rule

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent cases directed to the extension of patent term. These amendments implement the patent term restoration provisions of Pub. L. No. 100-670, 102 Stat. 3971 (November 16, 1988) which permits owners of patents relating to new animal drugs or veterinary biological products that are not biotechnology-generated to apply for extension of the terms of such patents in the same manner as owners of patents relating to human drugs, medical devices, food additives, or color additives are permitted to do under 35 U.S.C. 156.

Effective Date: August 22, 1989

Supplementary Information: Pub. L. No. 100-670 has made it possible for owners of patents directed to new animal drugs and to veterinary biological products that are not biotechnology-generated to apply for extension of the term of such patents in a manner similar to the owners of patents directed to human drugs, food additives, color additives, and medical devices. A new animal drug or veterinary biological product is biotechnology-generated if it is primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes including site specific genetic manipulation techniques. The primary purpose of this rule change is to revise the present regulations contained in 37 CFR Part 1, Subpart F, to include the two additional categories of subject matter that can now form the basis of patent term extension. These regulations set forth procedures that govern the content and submission of applications for the extension of a patent term to the PTO, and procedures governing the extension determination and issuance of patent term extension certificates by the PTO.

Initial guidelines directed to the preparation and filing of applications for patent term extension as authorized by Pub. L. No. 100-670 were published as "Guidelines For Extension of Patent Term For New Animal Drugs or Veterinary Biological Products Under 35 U.S.C. 156 as Amended" in the Official Gazette, 1097 Official Gazette 63 (December 27, 1988). A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on March 7, 1989, at 54 FR 9507 and in the Official Gazette, 1100 Official Gazette 128 (March 28, 1989). No oral hearing was conducted on these proposed rules. One written comment was received.

The only written comment received was directed to the proposed amendment to § 1.710(a). The proposed amendment indicated that a patent is eligible for extension of the patent term if the patent claims a product either alone or in combination with other ingredients that read on a composition that received permission for commercial marketing or use. The proposed modification was objected to because of the implication that patent term extension would not be available for composition patents where the claimed compositions do not read on the composition (new drug) approved by the FDA. Such an interpretation, it was argued, would unfairly and narrowly interpret the statute. The comment noted that where a marketing applicant seeks approval for multiple dosage forms or compositions of a new drug, the right to obtain patent term extension is triggered at the time the first new drug application is approved. In a typical situation, an injectable dosage form to be used for acute indications will require a lesser development time and be approved more rapidly than the oral dosage form of the same active ingredient intended for chronic administration. It was represented in the comment that justification for the drug development program might hinge on the expectation of an extension of an oral composition patent. If there were patents on both the injectable dosage form and the oral administration form containing the same active ingredient, which were mutually exclusive for the purposes of this illustration, the new drug holder, it is argued, should have a choice of which patent term to extend based on the first approval of a new chemical entity (NCE) drug. Finally, the comment suggested that the proposed amendment to § 1.710(a) with respect to composition patents stands in marked contrast to the situation which applies in the case of method of use patents. It is alleged, in the comment, that the rule in effect allows an extension of a method of use patent whenever the claimed method of use embraces the use of the active ingredient. According to the comment, where an NCE drug is first approved for the treatment of arthritis, a patent limited to an analgesic use of the NCE drug may be extended. (Note the requirement in § 1.740(a)(4) to identify the use for which the product was approved.)

These remarks made in this comment raise a substantive issue relating to the eligibility of patents for patent term extension under 35 U.S.C. 156 that is not addressed in the rules. The exercise of the Commissioner's rulemaking authority under 35 U.S.C. 6 and 156 can neither enlarge nor reduce the scope of eligibility of a patent for patent term extension under 35 U.S.C. 156. Secondly, the proposed amendment to § 1.710(a) is clearly couched in terms which are permissive without either explicitly or implicitly excluding other possibilities. The proposed amendment was made in response to many inquiries received over the years since enactment of 35 USC 156 as to whether a formulation or composition claim in a patent could form a basis for eligibility for patent term extension. Finally, the PTO has a long-standing policy of not addressing an issue in advance of receiving an application presenting the issue for determination. The issue of whether a patent is eligible for patent term extension that could not be enforced in either the original or extended term against the approved formulation or use that allegedly would give rise to eligibility has not been addressed yet by the PTO.

PTO experience to date did involve consideration of two applications that were filed based on approval of the human drug product OCUFEN Ophthalmic Solution, which contains the active ingredient Flurbiprofen [2-(2-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid]. Relevant claims from the two patents that were the subject of the applications for patent term extension were as follows:

I. Patent 3,755,427 (issued August 28, 1973)
Claim 2. 2-(2-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid.

II. Patent 3,793,457 (issued February 19, 1974)
Claim 1. A therapeutic composition useful in the treatment of pain, inflammation, and pyretic conditions which comprises a compound selected from the group consisting of 2-(2-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid, 2-(2'-fluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid, and 2-(2,2'-difluoro-4-biphenylyl) propionic acid in association with a pharmaceutically acceptable excipent the amount of said compound present in said composition being an amount effective against at least one of said conditions.

Claim 2 of the earlier issued patent is directed to the active ingredient per se, whereas claim 1 of Patent No. 3,793,457 is directed to a formulation which can contain Flurbiprofen in an amount which was effective in the treatment of pain, inflammation, and pyretic conditions.

However, since the approved indication for Ocufen was for the inhibition of intraoperative miosis, it was not immediately apparent to the PTO whether the '457 patent claimed the product within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 156. Our view was that the 1984 Act was intended to restore to those patent owners a portion of the enforceable term of an appropriate patent of their choice which was lost due to Government required regulatory review for the product covered by the patent prior to the commercial marketing of the claimed product or the use thereof. If the patent could not be enforced against an infringer who was making, using, or selling an ophthalmic solution containing Flurbiprofen for the treatment of intraoperative miosis, it was questioned how the restoration of the lost patent term due to the regulatory process for the approved product is appropriate under the statute.

In this case, the applicant for patent term extension submitted evidence that Flurbiprofen, in an amount of 0.0004% to 0.1%, has anti-inflammatory activity in the eye when topically administered. The approved label showed that Ocufen contained 0.03% of the active ingredient and stated that the product is "a topical nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory product for ophthalmic use." The specification of the '457 patent indicated that useful compositions preferably contain 0.1-90% by weight of a compound of the invention. Thus, the dosage of the active ingredient for the indicated use clearly overlapped the effective dosages specified in the functional language of claim 1 of the '457 patent. On the basis of this evidence, the PTO concluded that the later issued patent claimed the product. As both patents were determined to be eligible for patent term extension, applicant was permitted to choose the single patent term to be extended. 35 U.S.C. 156(c)(4).

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.710(a) specifically sets forth the existing policy and practice relating to eligibility of patents claiming a composition or formulation that includes the active ingredient. A patent is considered to claim the product at least in those situations where the patent claims the active ingredient per se, or claims a composition or formulation which contains the active ingredient(s) and reads on the composition or formulation approved for commercial marketing or use.

Section 1.710(b) revises the definition of human drug product in paragraph (b)(1) to make the definition conform to Pub. L. No. 100-670. A new paragraph (b)(2) is added to expand the definition of "product" in § 1.710(a) to include a new animal drug and a veterinary biological product, but not one that is primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes including site specific genetic manipulation techniques. Present paragraph (b)(2) is redesignated as paragraph (b)(3). It should be understood that the discussion here of new animal drugs and veterinary biological products is limited to the animal drugs and products defined in Pub. L. No. 100-670.

Paragraph (e)(2) of section 1.720 is revised to indicate that the conditions given therein concern a patent for a product other than one recited in section 1.710(b)(2), due to the exclusion of biotechnology-generated new animal drugs and veterinary biological products in Pub. L. No. 100-670. A new paragraph (e)(3) is added to Section 1.720 directed to the provision in 35 U.S.C. 156(a)(5)(C), which permits the term of a patent directed to a new animal drug or veterinary biological product to be extended based on a second or subsequent approval of the active ingredient provided all the following conditions exist: (a) the patent claims the drug or product, (b) the drug or product is not covered by the claims in any other patent that has been extended ("covered by the claims" means that the drug or product would infringe a claim in the other patent), (c) the patent term was not extended on the basis of the regulatory review period for use in non-food-producing animals, and (d) the second or subsequent approval was the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the drug or product for administration to a food-producing animal. A new pertion is added to paragraph(f) directed to the case where eligibility is to be based on 35 U.S.C. 156 (a)(5)(C). In this latter case, the application must be filed within 60 days of the first approval for administration to a food-producing animal.

Paragraph (a)(4) of § 1.740(a) is amended to (1) eliminate "human" as a modifier for "product," (2) add the Public Health Service Act and the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act to the list of appropriate statutes, and (3) add a requirement to indicate the use for which the product was approved. The first two amendments are necessary to comply with terms of 35 U.S.C. 156 as amended, and the third amendment is necessary to a determination of eligibility where, for example, the application is based on a second or subsequent approval of an active ingredient, but the first approval for administration to a food-producing animal. Paragraph (a)(9) is amended to eliminate the requirement to set forth the statement, beginning on a new page, that the patent for which patent term extension is sought claims the approved product or a method of using or making same, and the required showing listing each applicable claim of the patent and demonstrating the manner in which each applicable claim reads on the approved product or a method of using or making same. This change is made because the information required by this paragraph is within the province of PTO review and there is no need to have such information recited in a readily segregable section of the application. Paragraph (a)(10) is amended to indicate that, as appropriate, the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture will determine the applicable regulatory review period. Paragraph (a)(10)(i) is amended to recite that a Product License Application is a type of application that may be recited in an application for term extension of a patent claiming a human biological product. New paragraphs (a)(10)(ii) and (a)(10)(iii) are added to set forth the type of tests or applications that are to be considered for determination of the applicable regulatory review period for patents claiming a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product. Present paragraphs (a)(10)(ii) and (a)(10)(iii) are redesignated as paragraphs (a)(10)(iv) and (a)(10)(v), respectively. Paragraph (a)(10)(v) has been amended to reflect that approval of a medical device could be made through the use of a product development protocol. Paragraph (a)(13) is amended to indicate that the duty to disclose any information material to the determination of entitlement to the extension sought applies also to the Secretary of Agriculture where the regulatory review was conducted by the USDA.

Section 1.741(a)(2) is amended to acknowledge that regulatory review may take place under more than one Federal statute and that each appropriate statute should be listed. This amendment is intended to apply to a situation where a human biological product is tested under an investigational new drug (IND) application pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, but is approved under the Public Health Service Act. The amendment is not intended to include a situation where approval is sought for use of a particular medical device with a specific drug product which may require approval under more than a single provision of law. The product that forms the basis of an application for patent term extension must be either a medical device or a drug product; it cannot be a combination of those separate products. See the file history of U.S. Patent No. 4,428,744 for an example of the application of this principle.

Section 1.741(a)(5) is amended to recognize that the Secretary of Agriculture may determine the length of the regulatory review period where the regulatory review of the product takes place at the USDA. The section is further modified to point out that a determination of the length of the regulatory review period is made under 35 U.S.C. 156(g), and not the length of the patent term extension that is made by the PTO under 35 U.S.C. 156(c).

Section 1.765(a) is amended to recite that a duty of candor and good faith is owed to the Secretary of Agriculture in patent term extension proceedings wherein the USDA is involved.

The title of § 1.775 is amended to reflect that the section is directed to calculating patent term extension for human drug, antibiotic drug, and human biological products. Paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) are amended to indicate that the determinations are being made for any of a human drug, an antibiotic drug, or a human biological product. Sections (c)(1) and (c)(2) are amended to refer merely to a "product" rather than to a "human drug product" or a "drug product" in order to make the sections clearer.

Section 1.778 is added to set forth the manner of calculation of the patent term extension for an animal drug product.

Paragraph (a) specifies that the extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.778 provides that the patent term will be extended by the regulatory review period for the product but reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods provided in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (c) defines how the regulatory review period is to be calculated. The period is determined by counting

(1) the number of days in the period beginning on the earlier of the dates a major health or environmental effects test was initiated on the drug or an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the drug and ending on the date an application was initially submitted for the drug under section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; and

(2) the number of days in the period beginning on the date the application was initially submitted for the approved drug under subsection (b) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and ending on the date the application was approved under the section.

The added total of the days determined in subparagraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) constitutes the regulatory review period, which is then reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods described in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (d) of § 1.778 modifies the term of the patent extension by indicating that

(1) the time period determined from paragraph (c) would be reduced, where appropriate, by--

(i) the number of days in the period of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of section 1.778 that were before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) the number of days in paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of section 1.778 during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) that applicant did not act with due diligence; and

(iii) the number of days equal to one-half the number of days remaining in paragraph (c)(1) after the paragraph (c)(1) determination has been reduced in accordance with paraprahs (d)(1)(i) and (d)(1)(ii) of section 1.778 (half days to be ignored for subtraction purposes);

(2) adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) adding 14 years to the date of approval of the application under section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(4) comparing the dates obtained from paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(5) if the original patent issued after November 16, 1988, by--

(i) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) comparing the dates obtained from paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) if the original patent issued before November 16, 1988, and

(i) if no major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated and no request was submitted for an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act before November 16, 1988, by--

(A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) if a major health or environmental effects test was initiated or a request for an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, and the application for commercial marketing or use of the drug was not approved before November 16, 1988, by--

(A) adding 3 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained from paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date.

Section 1.779 is added to set forth the manner of calculation of the patent term extension for a veterinary biological product.

Paragraph (a) specifies that the extension runs from the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.779 provides that the patent term would be extended by the regulatory review period for the product but reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods provided in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (c) defines how the regulatory review period is to be calculated. The period is determined by counting

(1) the number of days in the period beginning on the date the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act became effective and ending on the date an application for a license was submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act; and

(2) the number of days in the period beginning on the date an application for a license was initially submitted under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act and ending on the date a license was issued.

The added total of the days determined in paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) constitutes the regulatory review period, which is then reduced, where appropriate, by the time periods described in paragraph (d).

Paragraph (d) of § 1.779 defines the term of the patent extension by indicating that

(1) the time period determined from paragraph (c) would be reduced, where appropriate, by--

(i) the number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) that were on and before the date on which the patent issued;

(ii) the number of days in the periods of paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) during which it is determined under 35 U.S.C. 156(d)(2)(B) that the applicant did not act with due diligence; and

(iii) one-half the number of days remaining in the period defined by paragraph (c)(1) after that period is reduced in accordance with paragraphs (d)(1)(i) and (d)(1)(ii) (half days being ignored for purposes of subtraction);

(2) adding the number of days determined in paragraph (d)(1) to the original term of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer;

(3) adding 14 years to the date of the issuance of a license under the Virus-Serum-Toxim Act;

(4) comparing the dates for the ends of the periods obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) and selecting the earlier date;

(5) if the patent was issued after November 16, 1988, by--

(i) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(ii) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(5)(i) with each other and selecting the earlier date;

(6) if the original patent issued before November 16, 1988, and

(i) if no request for the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, by--

(A) adding 5 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(i)(A) with each other and selecting the earlier date; or

(ii) if a request for the authority to prepare an experimental biological product under the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act was submitted before November 16, 1988, and the commercial marketing or use of the product was not approved before November 16, 1988, by--

(A) adding 3 years to the original expiration date of the patent as shortened by any terminal disclaimer; and

(B) comparing the dates obtained pursuant to paragraphs (d)(4) and (d)(6)(ii)(A) and selecting the earlier date.

Section 1.785(b) is amended to indicate that, in those instances where an applicant is seeking patent term extension for two or more patents based upon the same regulatory review period, the applicant will have the right to elect which patent is to have its term extended. In the absence of an election by applicant, the Commissioner will extend that patent having the earliest date of issuance.

Other Considerations

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. No. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities [Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354]. The rule change setting forth procedures allowing owners of patents directed to new animal drugs and veterinary biological products to apply for extension of patent term would not be expected to result in any adverse economic impact on small entities because patented drugs are generally not commercialized by small entities.

The PTO has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect to the economy will be less that $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the abilbity of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change contains a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. which has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 0651-0020. Preparation of an application for patent term extension is estimated to take approximately sixty hours, including time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the Office of Management and Organization, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington D.C. 20503. (Paperwork Reduction Project 0651-0020) No comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information were received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking.

(b) The term "product" referred to in paragraph (a) of this section means--

(1) The active ingredient of a new human drug, antibiotic drug, or human biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Public Health Service Act) including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient; or

(2) The active ingredient of a new animal drug or veterinary biological product (as those terms are used in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act) that is not primarily manufactured using recombinant DNA, recombinant RNA, hybridoma technology, or other processes including site specific genetic manipulation techniques, including any salt or ester of the active ingredient, as a single entity or in combination with another active ingredient; or

(2) In the case of a patent other than one directed to subject matter within § 1.710(b)(2) claiming a method of manufacturing the product that primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the permission for the commercial marketing or use is the first received permission for the commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent, or

(3) In the case of a patent claiming a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product that is not covered by the claims in any other patent that has been extended, and has received permission for the commercial marketing or use in non-food-producing animals and in food-producing animals, and was not extended on the basis of the regulatory review period for use in non-food-producing animals, the permission for the commercial marketing or use of the drug or product after the regulatory review period for use in food-producing animals is the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the drug or product for administration to a food-producing animal.

(f) The application is submitted within the sixty-day period beginning on the date the product first received permission for commercial marketing or use under the provisions of law under which the applicable regulatory review period occurred; or in the case of a patent claiming a method of manufacturing the product which primarily uses recombinant DNA technology in the manufacture of the product, the application for extension is submitted within the sixty-day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of a product manufactured under the process claimed in the patent; or in the case of a patent that claims a new animal drug or a veterinary biological product that is not covered by the claims in any other patent that has been extended, and said drug or product has received permission for the commercial marketing or use in non-food-producing animals, the application for extension is submitted within the sixty-day period beginning on the date of the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the drug or product for administration to a food-producing animal;

ingredient, a statement that it has not been previously approved for commercial marketing or use under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, the Public Health Service Act, or the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act, or a statement of when the active ingredient was approved for commercial marketing or use (either alone or in combination with other active ingredients), the use for which it was approved, and the provision of law under which it was approved.

(9) A statement that the patent claims the approved product or a method of using or manufacturing the approved product, and a showing which lists each applicable patent claim and demonstrates the manner in which each applicable patent claim reads on the approved product or method of using or manufacturing the approved product;
(10) A statement, beginning on a new page, of the relevant dates and information pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 156(g) in order to enable the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture, as appropriate, to determine the applicable regulatory review period as follows:
(i) For a patent claiming a human drug, antibiotic, or human biological product, the effective date of the investigational new drug (IND) application and the IND number; the date on which a new drug application (NDA) or a Product License Application (PLA) was initially submitted and the NDA or PLA number and the date on which the NDA was approved or the Product License issued;
(ii) For a patent claiming a new animal drug, the date a major health or environmental effects test on the drug was initiated and any available substantiation of the date or the date of an exemption under subsection (j) of section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for such animal drug; the date on which a new animal drug application (NADA) was initially submitted and the NADA number; and the date on which the NADA was approved;

* * * * *

(5) Sufficient information to enable the Commissioner to determine under 35 U.S.C. 156 subsections (a) and (b) the eligibility of a patent for extension and the rights that will be derived from the extension and information to enable the Commissioner and the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture to determine the length of the regulatory review period; and

* * * * *

6. Section 1.765 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.765 Duty of Disclosure in patent term extension proceedings.

(a) A duty of candor and good faith toward the Patent and Trademark Office and the Secretary of Health and Human Services or the Secretary of Agriculture rests on the patent owner or its agent, on each attorney or agent who represents the patent owner and on every other individual who is substantively involved on behalf of the patent owner in a patent term extension proceeding. All such individuals who are aware, or become aware, of material information adverse to a determination of entitlement to the extension sought, which has not been previously made of record in the patent term extension proceeding must bring such information to the attention of the Office or the Secretary, as appropriate, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, as soon as it is practical to do so after the individual becomes aware of the information. Information is material where there is a substantial likelihood that the Office or the Secretary would consider it important in determinations to be made in the patent term extension proceeding.

7. Section 1.775 is amended by revising the title and paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) introductory text to read as follows:

§ 1.775 Calculation of patent term extension for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product.

(a) If a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 that a patent for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product is eligible for extension, the term shall be extended by the time as calculated in days in the manner indicated by this section. The patent term extension will run from the original expiration date of the patent or any earlier date set by terminal disclaimer (§ 1.321).
(b) The term of the patent for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product will be extended by the length of the regulatory review period for the product as determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, reduced as appropriate pursuant to paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(6) of this section.
(c) The length of the regulatory review period for a human drug, antibiotic drug or human biological product will be determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Under 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(1)(B), it is the sum of--
(1) The number of days in the period beginning on the date an exemption under subsection (i) of section 505 or subsection (d) of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act became effective for the approved product and ending on the date the application was initially submitted for such product under those sections or under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act; and

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
